

THE CITY COUNCIL

MET IN REGULAR SESSION

Isolation Hospital to be Repaired—
Plumbing Bylaw Amended

The city council met last evening, present, Mayor McKinnis and Aldermen Griesbach, Beard, Bellamy, Clark and Fraser.

A letter was received from the Astley-Jones Piano and Organ Co. asking for a rebate in their business tax as they had been in business only since July. It was decided to remit taxes for the half year. The committee on laws and legislation were asked to take notice of such cases as this, that it may be brought up when the charter is being amended.

A request was received from Deblais, Thebaud, representing the Credit Foncier Loan Co. asking for permission to erect a temporary frame office on Lot 76, Block 2, corner of Jasper avenue and 3rd street. It was the intention of the company to erect a three storey brick building on that lot, which would cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. The request was granted on condition that the company remove the frame building outside the fire limits within a year.

J. Wilson, chief of the fire brigade wrote asking to be relieved of the duties of nuisance inspector. The communication was referred to the commissioners who are to interview Mr. Wilson and report to the council.

All Bellamy, chairman of the streets and parks committee, submitted a report regarding the application of L. S. Bolster, for a lease of a portion of the south end of Namsay avenue. The report recommended that the application be not entertained, unless permission be first obtained from owners immediately to the east of the said street, and unless the city was safeguarded against damages or litigation from other property owners in the vicinity on account of the partial closing of the street. The report was adopted as read.

The commissioners presented a report regarding parks, a resume of which is given elsewhere in these columns.

A report re a temporary isolation hospital stated that the commissioners had considered the matter and suggested that block 16, river lot 44 which had been purchased for the C.N.R. right-of-way be set apart for the purpose, and also that a portion of the lot be used as a city yard where tiles and pipes could be kept. All Griesbach raised the objection that the place would be too noisy for patients confined in the hospital. Trains would be going back and forth. It was finally decided to have the old building which had been intended for a small-gas hospital fitted up and put into shape for receiving patients, and the commissioners were instructed to see that this was done.

A by-law to amend the plumbing by-law was read and the amendment provided for the compulsory inspection of sewer connections and such connections must be left open till inspected. The council was notified that connections are ready for inspection, and the inspection must be made within three days at least from the time of notification.

All Fraser enquired the cause of the breakage in the water main at Bellamy Hill. Commissioner Hargreaves explained that it was due to a defective pipe, and that the matter had been remedied.

CITY PARK SYSTEM

PROPOSED TO THE COUNCIL

Commissioners Brought in a Report
Last Night Suggesting Purchase of Sites

At the regular meeting of the council last evening the city commissioners brought in a report outlining a plan for city parks. The plan suggested:

1. That the plot known as the old nuisance ground be fenced, levelled and seeded to grass, in preparation to planting trees next spring.

2. That the half-block south of Queen's avenue school be purchased if possible.

3. That the city secure from the Dominion Government that portion of the jail property adjoining K. McDonald's residence, and secure from Mr. McDonald the extension of Jasper avenue, through his property, to provide access to the site.

4. That the hill-side in front of McLaughlin Methodist church be put into shape for the planting of shrubbery and flowers.

5. That the proposed driveway from Victoria avenue down the hill-side and around to River avenue, as shown in the plan of Mr. Driscoll, be obtained, and that the Riverside driveway be placed along the river bank, instead of there being, as the plan provided, a row of lots between the driveway and the river.

6. That the city purchase the present exhibition grounds and that part of Donald Ross' property between the grounds and the river, or if that is not possible, secure from the Hudson Bay Co. either the whole or part of the flat to the west of the old fort and east of the old town boundary.

The report also drew the attention of the council to the opinion of the commissioners that unless the council was prepared to expend a reasonable amount in putting park grounds into shape and maintaining them as parks it would not be a wise policy to make purchases.

The report was referred back to the commissioners to ascertain the probable cost of carrying out the scheme suggested.

ALBERTA COLLEGE LITERARY SOCIETY

The second meeting of Alberta College Literary Society was held last evening in the assembly room of the hall. There was a good attendance. The president, occupied the chair. The great feature of the evening was the reading of "College Echoes," the literary paper, by the editor, E. J. Lawrence.

Another amusing number of the program was a college song, written on the last football match between the city and the college, sung by J. H. Gibson to the tune of "Michael Roy."

Following is the program:

Solo, H. Bush: Reading, Miss Knowles; Banjo Duet, Misses McConnell and Shively; Reading of Part I of "College Echoes," Piano Duet, Misses Crawford and Kemp; College Song, J. H. F. Gibson; Reading, Mr. Wynn; String trio, Messrs. Hogg, Light, Diven and West; Reading of Part II of "College Echoes," Critics' report, C. Rose, B.A.

There will be no more meetings of the Literary Society till after the Christmas vacation.

CIVIC CAMPAIGN

IS GETTING STRENUOUS

Messrs A. T. Cushing, Ex-Mayor Short and Others Addressed a Large Meeting Last Evening

Robertson Hall was comfortably filled last evening at a campaign meeting held in the interests of the candidature of Mr. A. T. Cushing, Ex-Ald. K. A. McLeod occupied the chair and called the meeting to order about 8.30.

EX-MAYOR SHORT
Ex-Mayor Short was the first speaker. It was customary, he said, at this time of year, to discuss civic affairs in the hope of bettering the financial condition of the citizens and the hope that he might be enabled to contribute to this was the cause of his presence.

When a year since the city charter came into operation it was contended by these instrumental in securing it and was generally believed by the citizens that it was a step in the right direction. The charter was being made an issue in the present campaign. One candidate had declared himself as opposed to the charter and had spoken against it in very strong terms. These statements he considered somewhat wild. He thought the business men generally believed in the principle of placing the responsibility for the performance of executive work on parties who could be held responsible, not on committees of the council whose services were voluntary and whose term of office limited. It had been said that the council had no control of the commissioners. When had the council ever attempted to clearly define the duties of the commissioners? Or when had they criticized the commissioners? Or had they asked the opinion of the city solicitor on the

THE RIVAL CITIES OF ALBERTA

(Special Correspondence of the Toronto Globe)

Calgary, Nov. 25.—Will Calgary be greater than Edmonton? This is a question discussed not only in the city but on the trains. This place at the present time is several thousand inhabitants ahead of the northern city. It is developing into a most important wholesale centre. It is the home of a large number of commercial travellers, a sign that it is a point of trade distribution. Not long ago a circle of the United Commercial Travellers' Association was organized here with one hundred members on the charter list. Calgary's field runs as far west as the mining towns of Cranbrook and Kerne in British Columbia, north beyond Red Deer, south to the boundary and east beyond Medicine Hat. The country confined within these bounds is far Medicine Hat the population is very sparse, but a few years is bound to see all of what is now looked upon as an arid land occupied by colonies of American farmers. Just as soon as the irrigation canal is completed, and it is now well under way, this section will become most productive, and the C. P. R. will proceed to encourage farmers who have inhabited the irrigated districts of the United States to come north. Naturally towns of considerable size will spring up between Calgary and Medicine Hat on the main line of the C. P. R. and become feeders to the commercial houses of this city. In southern Alberta, which will always be Calgary's territory, settlement is increasing. American and eastern farmers are coming in all the time and taking up land.

The recent sales of school lands at Norton, High River and Claresholm, in fact, the value that is placed upon this section. Prices averaging between ten and fifteen dollars an acre are offered for land for years devoted solely to ranching. Then the prospect of railroad competition through James J. Hill's road from the south warrants the prediction that southern Alberta will enjoy wonderful growth in the next few years, and Calgary will benefit. Again this city lives in hope of becoming a manufacturing city. It has water power and can offer cheap fuel. Eastern manufacturers are already looking to this place for locations. Edmonton, to my mind, has a bigger section to serve than Calgary. At present there are only three wholesale houses there, but others are preparing to locate in the spring. Edmonton in a few years will be the distributing centre for that portion of Alberta running south to Red Deer and east along the C. P. R. to Winnipeg, unless Saskatoon supplants it in a portion of this country. West of Edmonton, and also north, there is a bright future, and the Peace River country is as productive as we are told. It will soon be settled and the Alberta capital will shift slightly. The many thousands of farmers who have taken up land in the country surrounding Edmonton in recent years. For a good many miles on all sides of this city the country is as well settled as the most fertile sections of Ontario.

A commercial traveller on the train the other day told me that he counted, while driving to Fort Saskatchewan, a distance of less than forty miles, one hundred and seventeen conveyances heading for Edmonton. These people were going into the city to sell grain, eggs, butter and live stock, and would return with goods purchased at the Edmonton stores. With this rapid development going on it is natural that Edmonton will grow and become a commercial centre, on a par with, if not greater than, Calgary.

At the present moment it looks as though Edmonton was going to become the railroad centre of the west. The main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, with branch lines north and south almost certain, the Canadian Northern with main line and at least three branches, and the C. P. R. with probably a branch or two, will bring to the city a very large population of railroad men, for not only will it be a divisional point for all these roads, but it will also beyond doubt possess shops for the repair and construction of cars and locomotives. Calgary, on the other hand, is assured of a branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and also one of the Canadian Northern, and these, with the Great Northern extension from Montana, give us reason to believe that the aggressive and substantial city near the foothills will be a railroad point of importance as well. The C. P. R. is building an imposing three-story stone structure in Calgary, to be used as headquarters for the irrigation and lands departments, and an official is my authority for the statement that the time is only a year or two distant when the C. P. R. will build a big station and hotel at this point. Calgary and Edmonton will both be large cities in a few years' time. There is keen rivalry between the two places, and the race between them in the years to come will be well worth watching.

To the Editor of the Bulletin,
Dear Sir: I noticed in your columns of yesterday, a letter signed by A. R. Tomlinson, the ex-auditor of the city, in which he is again going over considerable of the ground covered by him in his letters to the council in the first months of this year, with the statements I have nothing to say. I leave that to the expert accountant whom the city has employed to investigate them, but as chairman

SIR WILFRID APOLOGIZES

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who is in Quebec since the following telegram to Sarah Barnhardt: Quebec, Dec. 7, 1905.—Madame Sarah Barnhardt, Ottawa, Ont. I regret, more than I can say, acts of violence of which you and your company were the victims as you left Quebec. I only learned on my arrival here yesterday what had taken place the night before, and I express to you the universal regret caused by behavior as unworthy of the well known character of the city so remarkably careful of its renowned hospitality and courtesy. As to what was said by Levesque, I pay no attention to it. It is a newspaper, which for me does not count. Signe "Wilfrid Laurier."

SEVERAL INJURED IN MANITOBA WRECK

Brandon, Dec. 7.—Passengers who arrived on the Minnedosa train give particulars of a bad wreck which occurred near Riverdale siding, between Minnedosa and Rapid City yesterday evening. As the result of the wreck four men were taken to Brandon hospital. The train from Minnedosa to Brandon which met with the mishap was in charge of Conductor Smith. At Riverdale the train struck a broken rail and a combination smoker and baggage and an express car jumped the track. This car was the first one on the train and after it broke it coupled it rolled over several times. The passengers were hurried about with terrific force as the train was running about twenty-five miles an hour around a curve when the accident occurred. The injured are Mr. Mawinney, Portage la Prairie, Agent for Ericson Abell Co., rib broken and internally injured; Mr. Murphy, Crown Sash Co., Winnipeg, ankle and back hurt; D. C. MacMillan, Ottawa, bruised and slightly injured; Shilo has had an unbroken record of success for thirty years. It has stood every possible test without failure. In fact, it is its curative properties. Further

CANADA'S BUSINESS STILL EX- PANES

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—The Finance Department issued today a statement of revenue and expenditure of the Dominion for the five months ending with November last. For this period the revenue was $31,562,533 or $2,253,869 more than for the same time last year. The increase for the month of November alone was about one million. There was an increase in the expenditure for the five months of two millions and a half more than for 1904. This was about a quarter of a million more expended than the increase of revenue. All sources of revenue showed increase. There was one million three hundred thousand in customs, half a million on excise, over six hundred thousand dollars in the post office department, and over one hundred thousand in public works. The expenditure for November was about $2,000,000 more than for November of last year. On capital account for the four months the expenditure was $1,500,000 greater than for 1904. There was an increase in public works expenditure of $500,000. The militia expenditure was double and in houses on iron and steel the increase was about $200,000.

NORTHERN INDEPENDENCE

Correspondence
We have been having fine sleighing for the last couple of weeks. John Williams recently killed a lynx with a club. It was not a large one, but a vicious-looking customer. Charley McCauley met with an accident recently, being kicked by a horse, the hoof cutting gashes above and below the left eye. No bones were broken and he is getting along well. Smith and Hough have gone over on the Pembina with their threshing machine to thresh the grain in that vicinity.

A gathering of Independence people met at the Advance school house last Friday evening at a basket social and after an entertainment of speaking and singing the baskets were sold. They averaged one dollar and thirty-nine cents each, bringing eighteen dollars and five cents.

The literary had a debate last Saturday evening, subject debated, "Resolved that cattle are more useful to man than horses." It was decided in favor of the negative.

ALD. MAY'S VIEW

Edmonton, Dec. 9, 1905.
To the Editor of the Bulletin:
The misrepresentation of friends of Mr. Cushing compels me to seek this opportunity of placing my views clearly and definitely before the electorate on the street railway question. I am accused of having given my support to the street railway company in opposition to the electorate of the city of Edmonton. Let me state my opinion in a few words.
When the street railway agreement was being fought out in council I consistently and persistently fought for the rights of the city. Finally the agreement was referred to the citizens for their endorsement or rejection. The citizens by their votes asked the council to grant the charter to the company, and I, as an elected representative of the citizens did nothing more than carry out the will of the people in signing the agreement. And the company stood by the agreement, substantiated it by a deposit of ten thousand dollars, and the people who are abusing me today have been my strongest supporters. As it was, the company failed to carry out the terms of the agreement, and the charter and the deposit reverted to the city. I strongly favor acting on the charter as a municipal enterprise just as soon as there is a reasonable probability of the venture proving a business proposition.

My conduct on this platform is shown by the following resolution, moved by Alderman J. H. Boyle and seconded by myself at meeting number 38 held on October 25th: "That this communication be filed and that Mr. Jamme be informed that the council is not in favor of granting a street railway franchise at present to any company, as they have in view the construction and operation of a street railway as a municipal undertaking as soon as they can see their way clear to proceed with the enterprise."

Ex-Mayor Short criticizes me with respect of civic business in not criticizing the action of the commissioners at the proper time. I may be permitted to refer to two occasions on which I strongly and persistently criticized their actions. These are:

(1) The erection of the new bell tower as it has been constructed.
(2) The purchase of the fire hall team without a veterinary examination.

Further than this I insisted that an inspector should be placed over the cement sidewalk construction but was told by our commissioner that it was unnecessary.

In closing I believe that Messrs. Cushing and Short have a superficial and theoretic knowledge of the charter. I have a practical knowledge from having lived under it. Mr. Short went to Chicago to make a deal with the G. T. P. and himself violate one of the provisions of the charter by agreeing with the company to close a half street, which is a charter itself the city has no right to do. This is Mr. Short's knowledge of the charter which he claims to follow.

I appeal to the citizens of Edmonton to support me on Monday in the streets of clean and progressive city government.

WRONG REPORT CIRCULATED

Edmonton, Dec. 9, 1905.
To the Editor of the Bulletin:
The statement has been made on public platforms and has appeared in the city press that Mr. J. H. Hargreaves, who last February was appointed to the position of Public Works Commissioner for the city of Edmonton, never had been assistant engineer for the city of Winnipeg. At the time he received his appointment, I was personally of the opinion that he had held this important position and I believe all those who had to do with his appointment shared the same opinion and that his appointment was made to some extent on the strength of that opinion. Information from a private and I believe, reliable source, came to myself and at least one alderman, which confirmed that opinion. For the information of the public I give below an extract from a memorandum issued from the Engineer's Department of the city of Winnipeg, I think in the year 1899. It deals among other things, with the appointment of Mr. Hargreaves as assistant engineer and is signed H. N. Ratnam, City Engineer.
It is as follows:

City of Winnipeg.
City Engineer's Department.
Organization of Engineering Staff.
J. H. Hargreaves, Assistant Engineer.
DUTIES.
General charge of engineering works and employees.
To see that all orders and regulations of the Department are carried out.
To assign to each member of the staff his duties from time to time as may be necessary.
To be directly responsible to the City Engineer that all works are carried out according to specifications.
To measure up works and prepare estimates.
Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain,
Yours truly,
K. W. MACKENZIE.

MR. MANSON'S PLATFORM

To the Bulletin Mr. R. J. Manson this morning gave a brief statement of his views on municipal affairs. He said:

"I would like to see the city enterprises put upon a paying basis. They are not paying now and the object of the new council should be to place them as soon as possible on a paying basis and thus reduce the taxation. I am in favor of the executive work of the city being done by commissioners. The heads of different departments should be elected, energetic men. If the charter does not give the council power to purchase land it should be amended in that respect, and the council should as soon as possible purchase sites for public parks. I certainly am in favor of a union station. If there were stations in different parts of the city, it would tend to divide up the city. All the railways should enter the city over the one right of way. Provided the C. N. P. establish shops here and make this a divisional point, I would favor giving them a similar grant to that which we gave the C. N. P. I think proceedings should be taken at once to ascertain whether the city holds the street railway charter or not. If the city holds the charter let us proceed with operations at once, if the company still hold it, force them to show their hand. The telephone system should be put upon a proper working basis. The present system is practically useless. This should be adjusted immediately. If elected I will give my best attention to the city's business. The indifference of the aldermen at times during the past year was lamentable. On several occasions there were no meetings for lack of a quorum."

STRATHCONA NEWS

Strathcona, Dec. 6.—Mr. Macdonald, late of B. C., has just returned from a two weeks' trip to Athabasca Landing. Mr. Macdonald thinks the Pembina River section a very desirable one and has located there. He is also deeply interested in Edmonton, having large interests in that enterprising city.

Manager McClure is busy shingling the roof of the elevated tank.

Three gentlemen from North Dakota passed through town lately. They intend touring the region north and west of the Pembina River.

Mr. Palmer and son, of Tofted, are registered at the Royal.

W. H. Cammack and son, of Bloomfield, are in town. They have been away from the province for about four years, but have returned to make their home here.

R. Low, of White Horse Pass, Yukon, called yesterday on Mr. Weeks of Crawford & Weeks, whom he has not seen for sixteen years. He went on to the Vermilion district and will return to the Yukon, where he is in business.

NEW PLANT STARTED

Calgary, Dec. 6.—The official opening of the municipal lighting plant last night was a success in every way.

Promptly at eight o'clock, Mayor Mayor Emerson and Ald. Ramsay, which started the huge generator, and a minute later Alderman Ramsay, who is chairman of the Fire and Light Committee, started the electric fluid along the wires leading to the street lights.

From that time on, until after ten o'clock, the power house was continually crowded by citizens who came to look over the city's new plant. The vast majority of the visitors were agreeably surprised at the splendid plant the city has installed for lighting purposes.

The public were received at the entrance to the power house by Mayor Emerson and Ald. Ramsay, and were shown the plant by City Engineer Thorold, Chief Engineer White, and Engineer McCall. Engineer Burgard, who represented the Robt. Engineering Works and Electrician Reid of the Allis-Chalmers-Bullock Co., explained the working of the engines and electrical appliances to the visitors. Ald. Hornby and Brockiebank were also on hand, and assisted in showing the plant to those who called. Refreshments, consisting of coffee, cake sandwiches, etc., were served.

MARK TWAIN ON LONGEVITY

"Mark Twain" (Samuel L. Clemens) was the guest of honor on Wednesday evening at a dinner in New York given by George Harvey, in honor of the humorist's seventieth birthday. About 170 authors were present, nearly half of them women. During the dinner a congratulatory cable message was received from England signed by forty of the most distinguished writers there. President Roosevelt and Joel Chandler Harris sent letters.

When Mark Twain arose to speak he could not proceed for several minutes on account of the cheers. He said, in part: "I have achieved my seventy years in the usual way—by sticking strictly to a scheme of life which would kill anybody else. Since forty I have been regular about going to bed and getting up—and that is one of the main things. I have made it a rule to go to bed when there was not anybody to sit up with, and I have made a rule to get up when I have to. This resulted in an unswerving line of regularity.

"In the matter of diet, which is another main thing, I have been persistently strict in sticking to the things which did not agree with me until one or the other of us got the best of it. Until lately I got the best of it myself, but last spring I stopped frolicking with mine pie after midnight. Up till then I had always believed it was not loaded. For thirty years I have taken coffee and bread at eight in the morning, and no food nor sup till 7.30 in the evening.

"I have made a rule never to smoke more than one cigar at a time. I have no other restrictions as regards smoking. I do not know just when I began to smoke, I only know that it was in my father's lifetime, that that I was very discreet. He passed from this life early in 1847, when I was a shade past 11. Ever since then I have smoked publicly as an example to others and not that I cared for moderation myself.

"It has always been my rule never to smoke when asleep and never to refuse when awake. As for drinking, I have no rule about that. When the others drink, I like to refuse, otherwise, I refuse dry. My habit and preference. This dryness does not hurt me, but it might easily hurt you, because you are different. You let it alone.

"Since I was seven years old I have seldom taken a dose of medicine and have still seldom needed one. But up to seven I lived on allopathic medicines. Not that I needed them, for I don't think that I did; it was for economy. My father took a doctor to store in payment for a debt and it made cod liver oil cheaper than the other breakfast foods.

"I was the first Standard Oil man. I had it all right when the drug store was exhausted, my health was established and there has never been much the matter with me since.

"I have never taken any exercise except eating and resting, and I never intend to take any. Exercise is both some. And it cannot be any benefit when you are tired. I was always tired.

"I have lived a severely moral life. But it would be a mistake for other people to try to do for me to recommend it. Very few would succeed. You would have to have a larger stock of morals and you can't get them on a night. You have to have the whole thing and put them in your box. Morals are an acquisition like music, like foreign language, like pity, poker or paralysis.

"Three score years and ten. It is the scriptural statute of limitations. After that you owe no activities. For you the strenuous life is over. You are a time-expired. n. to use Kipling's military phrase—you have served your turn. Well, or less well and you are transferred out. You are become an honorary member of the Republic, you are emancipated; commissions are not for you, nor any bugle-call, but "lights out." You pay the time-worn duty bills if you choose, or decline if you prefer—and without penalties, for they are not legally collectible."

WARNING TO AGENTS

The register of joint stock companies has issued the following notice:

The attention of all companies, firms, brokers, agents and others, either representing or carrying on business on behalf of any unregistered Foreign Company in the Province, is directed to the provisions of the Foreign Companies Ordinance of 1903, by which there is a penalty of $50, per day for each day that such company has transacted business within the Province, without first having been licensed to do so by the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies. All such companies licensed by the Government of the North-West Territories, are recognized by the Government of the Province of Alberta, but any company which was not registered in the Territories, must comply with the provisions of the Ordinance or bear the consequence of having the fine imposed by the Government. Where any doubt exists in the mind of any Agent as to whether the company represented by him is fully registered in accordance with the provisions of the Ordinance, such doubt can easily be removed by applying to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies, who has a complete record of all Foreign Companies licensed to do business within the Province, on file in his office at Edmonton. The address of the Registrar is: Harold W. Riley, Registrar of Joint Stock Companies.

The Civic Campaign

matter? The control was as undoubted as that of an employer over his employees. The two-thirds majority necessary to discharge a commissioner was a means taken to give permanence to the office without which good men could not be procured. It was the business of the commissioners to present estimates for proposed work with plans and specifications. These must be approved by the council and it was the business of the commissioners to see that the instructions were carried out. The same rule applied to the assessment. The work had to be done along the lines laid down by the council and anyone dissatisfied had the power to appeal to the council. The final word lay with the council and they had the power to discharge the commissioners. It was not carried out. The ultimate control was thus in the hands of the people, who should elect men willing to give the council a fair trial and to lay down definite rules for the guidance of the commissioners. His support Mr. Cushing confided. He believed the city would have honest and efficient government.

Referring to the street railway question, Mr. Short inquired if the charter had ever been returned to the city or if any attempt had been made to secure it. Time had vindicated the position he had taken in opposition to handing this over to the company two years ago. "You know how badly you were tricked. What are you going to do about getting it back? Are the street railway people supporting Mr. Cushing?" The speaker had heard of large bets being offered on Mr. Cushing's opponent by a gentleman associated with the enterprise. He inquired if Mr. May had come out squarely on the street railway question. Now was the time to remedy the mistake formerly made.

Referring again to the city charter he said it should be given a fair trial and when its weaknesses were located these should be remedied. Those already found should be amended at once.

W. T. HENRY.

W. T. Henry was called on and spoke ardently in support of the commissioner system of civic government, citing errors which might have been avoided by the earlier adoption of the principle of placing experts in charge of city enterprises. The principles before the ratepayers were far-reaching and worthy their careful consideration.

Messrs. Geo. Sanderson and R. J. Manson, municipal candidates, were called on. Mr. Sanderson said he was unprepared, having understood the meeting was to be postponed. Mr. Manson did not think it necessary to act to his remarks of the previous evening.

MR. CUSHING

Mr. Cushing was greeted with applause on rising to speak. He read a letter from Mr. May announcing that he would not accept the invitation to attend the meeting as he thought the issues already well understood by the electors. With this Mr. Cushing took issue. The question of civic improvement should be thoroughly understood and he had no apology to offer for calling the meeting. It was a matter for consideration that there was a public spirit and an "Edmonton spirit" in the citizens which made them take an interest in the problems confronting the city.

Returning to the street railway charter he said it was important to know at once where we stood with relation to the company and action should be taken at once to ascertain this. He did not understand why the present council had not done so. There would be a great advantage in beginning the construction of the line as early as possible. The development of the city was assured and by beginning now the system would be in order when it was needed. The traffic would very soon bear the expense. Some plan for public parks should be decided on and could best be taken up with the street railway proposition. The parks could be used to help the system and the system to serve the parks. It was also of importance to improve the natural beauty of the city. Edmonton should be the most beautiful and healthful city in the West or of the continent.

Speaking of the city charter Mr. Cushing thought it provided a good business arrangement for civic government. The mayor beside being a commissioner was elected by the people and accessible to them. It would be his pleasure if elected to meet the citizens to discuss any civic question. The commissioners should be the best men available and the salary necessary to secure such men was of secondary importance. A good man was cheaper at $5,000 than a poor one at $2,000. It was unfair for an alderman to criticise the public works commissioner in public when he had not done so in council. So far as the speaker was concerned he was prepared to pledge himself to secure an investigation into the case and if the commissioner were found inefficient would vote for his dismissal.

It was necessary that all appointments of civic affairs be thoroughly organized and the duties of employees defined. It was the special duty of the mayor to see that this organization was effected.

The people of Edmonton were seeking to work out the broad question of municipal ownership. There were many enemies of this principle but the result where it had been tried justified the claims of its friends. The question was not if it could be done but if it could be done well. His best in the interests of the city.

A. YORK.

A. York spoke briefly regarding the platform. He differed somewhat with the views of ex-Mayor Short regarding the charter but thought that in the main the candidates had practically the same platform. He favored the improvement of the market, securing the park, improving the fire brigade and if elected would do his best in the interests of the city.

Mr. Cushing closed the meeting by briefly asking the support of his hearers on Monday.

Some misapprehension appears to exist in the public mind of the number of Aldermen to be elected on Monday. There are four to be elected and any elector voting for more than this number spoils his ballot.

The Young Men's meeting in Sanderson's hall tomorrow evening at 8:15 will be addressed by Rev. Oscar G. King, a minister of the Free Methodist church. Mr. King has been organizing the Free Methodist work in Alberta for several months.

Mr. J. St. Clair Blackett, formerly of Victoria, B.C., but who for the past two years has been engaged in wholesale brokerage and insurance in this city, has purchased an interest in the Alberta Agencies, Limited, and is now one of the heavy stockholders in the company. The Alberta Agencies, Limited, incorporated less than two years ago, has grown into one of the big institutions of the province, representing several insurance companies and are adding real estate to their already extensive business. At the last meeting of the Board of Directors Mr. Alfred Aylmer Jones was re-elected President, Mr. J. St. Clair Blackett, vice-president, and Mr. C. Ross Palmer, managing director.
